Talk Outline:

- Identifying learned patterns of thoughts and feelings
- Understand why dreams don't come true and how to make it come true for you
- Discovering the power of self-leadership mastery to tap into your potential and achieve greater heights
- Tapping into your wheel of confidence and becoming the better you
- Questions you have always wanted to ask motivational speakers but never did

Positive self-leadership training introduces you to techniques and skills that will make you more effective in your personal and work life, helping to make your life more rewarding and meaningful.

In today's environment, individuals need to be empowered to manage their own development and growth. Rather than relying on your organisation, your boss, or your colleagues to make your life meaningful and effective, positive self-leadership training is focused on how YOU can change your life for the better. The program does this by teaching you a range of proven techniques to achieve your work and personal goals.

The self-leadership approach uses a combination of techniques to assist you in setting and achieving your goals in a rewarding way. The approach involves developing greater insight into your own thinking and behaviour, at the same time as seeking information and feedback from the environment to increase your personal effectiveness.

The self-leadership approach is unique in its premise that change comes from within, without the need to change organisational structures and support mechanisms. Thus, you can fulfill more of your potential by establishing your own direction and learning to overcome obstacles independently.
